

Doctoral Summer School 2015

Ljubljana, Slovenia

The doctoral summer school has a vision of providing a learning experience of considerable and lasting added value, offering the best teachers and specialised courses to complement the coursework doctoral students underwent in the regular programme of their PhD training.

The courses in the doctoral summer school are designed in a way to offer the most in a very concentrated form, so all the courses are offered within a week of intense work. The doctoral summer school is also an opportunity to network with doctoral students from other countries and institutions, gather new insights on one's research project and exchange ideas and knowledge in an international setting.

The Faculty of Economics is the University of Ljubljana's largest member, with more than 6,000 full-time and part-time undergraduate and graduate students. Founded in 1946, the Faculty is an important pillar of the Slovenian research and business community. It has developed a strong international network with institutions worldwide. Both EQUIS and AACSB accreditations rank the FELU among the best business schools.

The City of Ljubljana, situated between the Alps and the Adriatic Sea, is classified as a mid-sized European city, but it has preserved its small-town friendliness and relaxed atmosphere while providing all the facilities of a modern capital.

Distances between places in Slovenia are short, which makes Ljubljana a perfect base for exploring the Slovenia's diverse beauty.
