Scholarships for international Computer Science students

Study Computer Science at Hasso Plattner Institute with a scholarship

The Hasso Plattner Institute (HPI) is one of Europe's leading IT hubs just minutes from Berlin! We award up to four scholarships to particularly motivated and talented students to pursue the Master's degree in Computer Science in Germany. Scholarships are open to applicants with foreign citizenship and stateless individuals who have not obtained their first degree in Germany.

The English Master's degree Computer Science is the right program for anyone who wants to deepen their knowledge in the most relevant fields in IT at one of the top universities in Germany. Students can choose one of six tracks and prepare for a future in academia, major tech companies or startups.
