Studentai sako...

If you want to step out of your comfort zone, go and experience studies at Ajou University in South Korea! I have been studying abroad before, however, it was totally different in Korea. No one speaks English there, you can't find European food with ease, the culture differences between Koreans and Europeans are huge thus, you have to adjust yourself in a different lifestyle. The studies were interesting and diverse. Fortunately, we also had some flexibility and freedom to explore South Korea and other Asian countries. Studies at Ajou University gave me the lifetime experience, lifelong friends and the never ending love for the Earth's largest continent.
